

THE NATIONAL LAW REVIEW

Environmental Considerations for Construction Sites: What Lurks Beneath [Podcast]

Wednesday, March 20, 2019

We are pleased to announce the launch of the new Inside Law podcast, “Environmental Considerations for Construction Sites: What Lurks Beneath,” hosted by Polsinelli Environmental Regulatory and Transactional Shareholder Marissa Curran and Environmental Litigation Associate Allison Schaper.

In this podcast, our attorneys discuss the environmental considerations and legal tools needed to be successful and how to handle a variety of litigation matters, CERCLA (Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act) compliance and resolving any potential environmental issues that arise throughout the life cycle of a construction project.

Article By Allison A. Schaper
Marissa L. Curran Polsinelli PC Intelligence

Environmental, Energy & Resources
Construction Law
All Federal

© Polsinelli PC, Polsinelli LLP in California

Source URL: <https://www.natlawreview.com/article/environmental-considerations-construction-sites-what-lurks-beneath-podcast>