Webinar: Medication or Hazardous Waste? New EPA Requirements for Managing Unused Pharmaceuticals

The EPA’s new hazardous waste pharmaceutical rule takes effect on August 21, 2019. State agencies are scrambling to implement compliant programs in their respective states, creating considerable uncertainty for health care providers, pharmacies, and reverse distributors. Attorneys from Foley’s environmental practice will provide you with a detailed overview of the new requirements and help you prepare by answering:

- How is the new rule different from the current rule and common practices?
- How should you be managing your waste pharmaceuticals today?
- What should you do if the applicable state program is not ready by August 21, 2019?

Attendance

This presentation will be beneficial for general counsel, in-house counsel, environmental professionals in health care and distribution organizations—hospitals, long-term care facilities, pharmacies, and pharmaceutical distributors—and environmental consultants.
