Roetzel HealthLaw HotSpot: Closing Your Healthcare Practice? What You Need to Know [VIDEO]

Article By

Ericka L. Adler
Lee Levin

Roetzel & Andress LPA
Insights

Related Practices & Jurisdictions

- Insurance Reinsurance & Surety
- Health Law & Managed Care
- All Federal

Thursday, July 7, 2022

Roetzel HealthLaw HotSpot® is a podcast and YouTube channel for physicians and health professionals that covers the legal issues and trends that affect the healthcare industry.

Many of our healthcare practice clients have asked how they would go about selling or closing their practice. So, this week host Ericka Adler, Roetzel shareholder and Health Law Practice Group Leader, is joined by fellow Roetzel attorney Lee Levin to discuss what healthcare practices need to think about when shutting down their practice. Ericka and Lee’s in-depth conversation focuses on the different legal issues that may arise and what you need to be mindful of if you are selling your practice versus shutting down and/or retiring. They also discuss continuity plan options, malpractice insurance and personal liability as it relates to the closure of the practice and how to ensure a smooth transition.